WESTLAKE BACKS BOND ELECTION

ASSN. MEETING DISCUSSES DOGS KIDS AND TREES

500 Attend Conclave To Solve Problems

Westlake residents Wednesday night pledged their full support of today's school bond issue. The proclamation was made at the regular meeting of the Property Owners Association, attended by some 500 people.

During the course of the meeting, ably directed by Dr. George Gibson, organization president, everything was discussed from schools to trees to dogs. Purpose of the conclave was to iron out difficulties that have arisen in the Westlake area over the past three months.

Charles Becker, association official, gave the key speech of the evening as he called on 700 Yes votes for the school bond election.

"I have promised the Jefferson elementary school board of trustees that there won't be a single 'no' vote from Westlake. I am certain the people of Westlake will back my pledge," Becker said.

Applause indicated that Becker need have no worry that he will be made a liar after Friday's tabulation of votes.

TRANSPORTATION

Of almost equal importance to residents was the progress report made by Dr. Gibson on the transportation situation.

Dr. Gibson said that efforts to-date to secure buses from the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission have proven futal. The Bay city officials explain they can not furnish bus service at this time because: 1. Lack of equipment. 2. Cannot legally go into San Mateo county. 3. At the present time a bus would be run at a loss in Westlake.

However, the San Francisco municipal railroad officials have asserted that as soon as the Park Merced apartments are completed a bus will be run from Skyline boulevard to Junipero Serra boulevard, through the Westlake area.

As the Park Merced project probably won't be completed until June, 1951, Dr. Gibson said that he and Henry Doelger on Thursday will go directly to the BOND ISSUE GOAL — This is what Mr. and Mrs. Daly City voter are asked to approve today, September 29, at the Jefferson elementary school district bond election. The architect's drawing is one of many which must be taken off paper, and put up in this community to guarantee an end to swing shift education. When the bond issue passes the district may proceed with construction of 64 new classrooms in this area. (Picture made possible by Mike Callan, school board trustee.)

SEPTEMBER IS RECORD MONTH FOR BLDG. IN DC

Majority of Permits Go For Westlake Apts.

Over $2,000,000 in building permits are expected to be issued in Daly City this month to set an all-time monthly record for construction, George Hopman, building inspector, said today.

The majority of the permits will be issued to Henry Doelger for building some 500 apartments at an estimated cost of $1,750,000 on the south side of Westlake.

The record construction month follows a Korean war slump throughout Daly City and San Mateo county. During the past two months building hit a new low in this area, Hopman reports, with only $50,000 in permits issued during August.

Permits for the Westlake apartments call for 25 separate buildings. Each of the structures will contain from six to eight apartments of one to four rooms. The first units will be completed before the first of the year.

Other major permits issued this month went to William and Ricco Lagomarsino for 20 five-room homes in the Garden Valley district. Total value of this permit was $154,000. The concern was also issued a permit for the construction of two other homes at 500 San Diego and 1222 Brunswick.

Hopman also reports that Dan Dolan next month will request a permit for the construction of a $25,000 wood frame tow-story store buolding in the 6900 block of Mission.

Plans Proceed For OLPH Fete October 13 to 15

The Carnival of Nations to be given by Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church is only two weeks away and suddenly everyone is in a flurry of work and excitement.

Try to get any of the ladies on the telephone! The line is busy! Someone is calling someone else in a tizzy over some costume detail.

All the feathers in town are being borrowed for Indian costumes. The girls in the refreshment booth are pouring over library books. They want their French costumes to look authentic. Cafe de Paree, you know.

The men, of course, take these boring chores in their usual nonchalant stride. At the last minute they are confident the little woman will whip up something outstanding with a few yards of cloth and a lot of imagination.

A look in the Parish hall where the Carnival will be held on October 13, 14, and 15, reveals a few bare boards and scaffolding soon to be transformed under the magical fingers of Mr. George Calegari into a Carnival of Nations.

The school rooms in back of the Church where the children's carnival will be held is now just a catch-all piled high with unused furniture. It seems hard to believe that in a few weeks it will be full of colorful booths, games, balloons, Hopalong Cassidy outfits which amiable Indians and cowboys will pass out to the gleeful youngsters.

BIDS ON REVISED CENTER CALLED FOR OCT. 30th

If Bids Low Enough — Work To Begin Soon

Bids on the revised plans for the Community Center building will be opened by the city council October 30, and, if favorable, work is expected to begin before the end of the year.

At the regular council meeting Monday night the new plans and specifications for the building were accepted and bids were called. Earlier bids were rejected when the lowest was $412,000, as compared to estimates of $277,000 for construction.

While the basic plan for the center at Alp and Mission streets remains the same, certain "luxury" features have been eliminated in an effort to bring building costs down to original estimates, Mayor Paul Green said.

Another major step of the council Monday night was to declare Knowles street a major city street. Knowles will be extended to Highway No. 1 to afford residents of Westlake a direct route to the heart of Daly City. Work is expected to begin on this project before the end of the year.

The Fay Improvement company was granted an extension until November 1 to complete paving and sewer work in the Concordia area. The extension date was given on the exact day the contract for the job ran out, September 25.

Also, the Fay Improvement company figured in another move Monday evening, bidding $6,027 for the paving of the upper levels of Marchbanks Park. The council has taken the bid (it was the only one submitted) under consideration.

Other business before the council was:

1. Passing the parking meter ordinance to establish the meters in the business district and one block off said district. It is expected installation of the 300 to 350 meters will begin within the next 45 days, Orrin Wendling, city administrative officer, said today. The exact place for the meters will be established by separate resolutions to be passed by the council at a later date, Mayor Green said.

2. The bid of the Pacific States Iron Pipe company was accepted, and delivery of the pipe is expected within the next month.

3. The deed from the Stonecrest Corporation was accepted for a parcel of land given by the company for Edgewood park.

4. The council agreed to draw $4,465 from the general fund for a warrant to pay H. H. Smith for a strip of land through his quarry running from Brunswick to Hillside boulevard. The payment will be made when an official judgment is handed down on the controversial case, and when, and if Smith fails to appeal the judge's verdict.

"Hard Top" Balbi Comes Up With New Deluxe Garbage Car

Beneath the flower-bedecked derby of Val Balbi, Daly City's gift to sanitation, is ont only the brain of an engineer, author and philosopher, but also an inventor.

His claim to fame in this latter category can be seen these days rolling through Westlake in the imposing form of the latest type of garbage truck.

Technically named the "hydro twin loader," the massive truck's less truculent, more romantic name is "Miss Westlake." The apropo title was suggested to Balbi, oddly enough, by a community now being built by Henry Doelger. Other trucks in the fleet of the Daly City Scavenger Company, 6690 Mission, bear such flowery names as "Miss Ringstad," "Lana Turner," and so forth.

However, of more interest to residents than the truck's name is its functions.

This, according to Balbi, is one of the first covered garbage trucks in the Bay area. Completely enclosed, the waste material neither draws flies or fills the air with pungent odors.

"We've got the garbage collection business down to the point where shortly I, and my assistants, will be wearing white gloves. No more garbage odors or dirt is our pledge to the people of the greater Daly City area," Balbi said today.

His statement was based not only on the enclosed truck, but also on another even more important feature of the machine. Gone are the days when the sanitary engineers have to clamor to the top of the truck . . . instead they now empty their loads into two slots on either side of the vehicle just behind the cab. A lever is pressed and the garbage is forced back into the massive container by two hydraulic screws.

This type of loading not only does away with garbage men's backaches but facilitates faster, more efficient service. In a matter of minutes the truck can take on a load of 450 garbage cans full of waste.

"I'll challenge anyone on the West Coast to beat our record, or to show me a better truck," Balbi asserted. "In fact, I'll welcome an opportunity to meet any other garbage firms in a contest."

The finished truck, duly patented, has taken almost a year of planning and construction. It is the first in Balbi's fleet, and is soon to be put into regular operation in the Westlake area.

Within the next few months Balbi hopes to completely replace his old machines with the modern new vehicle.

The truck was built at the Colma Body shop with the cooperation of the Norside Engineering firm.

School Board Member, Westlake Voter Call For Approval Of Bond Issue

(Following are two letters by interested citizens of this community, calling on everyone to vote "yes" on both Proposition A and Proposition B at today's election.)

The first letter is from Mrs. Helen Cheatham, member of the Jefferson elementary school board. It reads as follows:

We are all aware of the importance of this school bond election day. A large number of our district citizens have been actively engaged in distributing informative materials and generally acquainting their neighbors with the facts and school housing needs in our hyper-thyroid community. Everyone has been wonderful, and therein lies the success of the bond vote!

Now, have you voted today? If you have, perfect. If you haven't, by all means go to your polling place and cast a "Yes" vote for the children of our community.

In the event of the passage of this bond issue, we will be able to meet the requirements of the present school population, and some of the prospective needs. The past few years of phenominal development in residential areas of the district has created a real school

ONE-HOUR CHEST DRIVE SLATED FOR SUNDAY

CC Collections Set From 1 to 2 p.m.

All Daly City residents are asked to give generously Sunday to the one-hour Community Chest drive to be held from 1 to 2 p.m.

This year's drive is to be held down to one hour to facilitate collections and to raise the quota without "annoying" residents for from one to three weeks.

Dan Anderson, Daly City theatre manager, is heading this year's Community Chest drive.

Also giving active support to the campaign are four of Daly City's leading clubwomen, Mesdames Minnie Bernardi, Richard J. Ennis Lorene Gardner and David Bunkley.

Already "more than busy" as presidents of their respective organizations, they, and their fellow club members, have voted to sponsor the "One-Hour" Community

Whether or not the children of Daly City will have adequate school facilities during the coming years is to be decided by Mr. and Mrs. Daly City today, September 29.

Today the citizens of the Jefferson elementary school district will go to the polls and either approve or turn thumbs down on a program to build 64 new classrooms in the Daly City area.

Possibly no election of the past 10 years is as important to the general welfare of the community as today's vote, James Snell, superintendent of schools, said.

"It is going to take a two-thirds majority to pass the bond issue. This will necessitate every voter going to the polls. If they fail, they will have failed the children of today and tomorrow."

Precincts

Following are the polls where votes may be cast from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.:

Crocker district — at Crocker school, 649 Bellevue avenue. This includes all residents in the Crocker area and is a consolidation of county precincts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 27, and 28.

Woodrow Wilson district — at Woodrow Wilson school, 43 Miriam street. This includes all residents in the "heart" of Daly City, and is by far the most important of the polls. It is a consolidation of county precincts 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 23, 24, 25, 26, 29, 30, 31, 33.

Broadmoor — at the Garden Village school, end of Garden lane. This includes all residents in Broadmoor and Garden Village.

Westlake — at the home of Charles Becker, 5 Fieldcrest drive. This includes all residents of the Westlake area.

Colma, Mission, Brisbane — Jefferson elementary school, 14 Alemany street. Including residents of Colma (outside of Broadmoor) and portions of Mission and Brisbane.

Election Goal

Briefly, the single purpose of this bond election is to eliminate the double sessions in the Jefferson elementary school, Mayor Paul Green said.

"Our children are now faced with the threat of one-half an education. It is impossible to give any student the full attention he needs, if he comes to school for only a few hours each day," Mayor Green concluded.

What's In A Name? . . . Plenty Of Trouble For Those Trying To Name "Peninsula"

Waging a major battle over a name this week, officials from San Francisco to San Jose seemed to have outflanked efforts to dub the land generally known as the "Peninsula" as "Santa Cruz peninsula."

The odious name was first suggested by the United States board of geographic names. In all innocence Dr. Meredith C. Burrill, board executive secretary, last week released the news that hereafter the geography books will list the land from San Jose to San Francisco as "Santa Cruz peninsula."

Now, the lads and lassies who have been calling this particular stretch of the world either "San

New Invention Promises To Eliminate Fog Belts

Mark Twain used to say "A lot of people talk about the weather, but no one does anything about it." This week a soft spoken San Francisco inventor threatened to make a liar out of Mark.

Operating what he terms a Hygrotrol, inventor C. R. Pleasants was bringing the sun through the fog-bound area in Broadmoor near Junipero Serra boulevard. The machine, consisting of special batteries and a rod closely resembling a television aerial is capable of pushing back fog for a mile around and some 500 feet skywards, the 58-year-old inventor claims.

Completing a 90-day test in the area, Pleasants is convinced that with enough of the units he could decrease the fog to the point where the fog belt might be known better as the "light mist" area, or possibly the "sunshine strip."

The effectiveness of the machine depends on many factors, chief among these is the density of the fog, Pleasants explained.

"Where the fog is extremely bad, the Hygrotrol will clear the area for about 1/16 of a mile and some 200 feet up. However, under ordinary fog conditions, it is possible to increase this area to a mile in diameter," Pleasants said.

Talking to the modest gentleman, it becomes apparent that he is far from a "crack pot." And this is not only one opinion, for the sincerity of the inventor has convinced San Francisco city officials to give the Hygrotrol machine a test within the near future.

When he has completed his experiment in Broadmoor, Pleasants hopes to set up his seven units along the San Francisco beach area below Golden Gate Park. Should his efforts to dispell the fog in this district prove successful (and there is no reason to doubt that they will not) Pleasants may expand operations so as to clear the adjective of "fog belt" from the name of the San Francisco-Daly City area.

"I hope to open a laboratory for further experiment and construction of the units in the Colma area," Pleasants said today.

Presently, he is operating from his home at 143 Lower Terrace, where his 25-year-old son, C. R. Pleasants Jr., inventor of the new process, has been paralyzed and confined to the family home for the past 10 years.

PUC to see if some temporary service cannot be inaugurated.

"Should this effort fail, Doelger and I will go to Mayor Elmer Robinson for action," Dr. Gibson said.

Questioned why Broadmoor is able to have bus service and not Westlake, Dr. Gibson replied that he had information that the Broadmoor bus, as it was not paying, will soon be discontinued.

SHELTERS

At this point a member of the audience called on the Association to erect bus stop shelters at the Westlake gates. Following a hand vote, the Association agreed to build the shelters and also investigate if similar type structures can be placed in Wsetlake for children awaiting the school buses.

There was better news concerning the traffic signals. A state highway official asserted that bids for chanellization and signals at the intersection of Highway No. 1 and Skyline boulevard and Junipero Serra will be opened October 16. Work will begin early in November on signals at these dangerous intersections, the official assured residents.

SPEED LIMIT

As at the last meeting of the group, the question was asked: "Why can't the speed limit on Highway No. 1 be cut from 50 to 35 miles per hour?" The answer was the same...there is still not enough traffic on the street which bisects Westlake to warrant a speed limit. However, it is expected that as the population of the area increases, the 35 mile restriction will be enforced.

As for traffic signs and street signs, Dr. Gibson said both were on order, and would be put up in Westlake as soon as they arrive.

FIRE ALARMS

Dr. Gibson said that fire alarms will be in operation in Westlake by the end of next week. He reported that due to faulty wiring the first alarms had to be pulled June 15, and this was the reason for the delay.

Another announcement met with equal enthusiasm by those present...Dr. Gibson indicated that in the very near future construction will get underway on the first unit of the commercial district, consisting of a market and a medical dental building.

He also reported that nothing can be done toward the construction of a park until such time as Daly City removes its sewage disposal unit. This site is just west of Cliffside drive.

Mayor Paul Green, who was present at the meeting, reported that progress is now being made on the formation of a new sanitation district, purpose of which will be the construction of a new sewage disposal plant. Thus, at some future date the park site will be cleared, and Westlake will have one of the finest parks in this area.

DOGS TO DOLLARS

Closing the meeting, there were the usual complaints about dogs and children running on lawns of the residents. Dr. Gibson said the only apparent solution to this was for everyone to attempt to be a good neighbor.

Still, in bad cases of dogs, Dr. Gibson referred the complaints to the Daly City dog pound—PLaza 5-4212.

A financial report was given, and it was disclosed that there is now $10,264 in the treasury.

The Association president, in answer to a question as to the spending of the money, said it will be used primarily for the beautification of the area such as putting in trees on everone's parking strip.

T'aint Funny Bacon; Joke Leads To Court

A practical joke backfired last week, and Friday Jolly Trio bartender Phillip K. Bacon is to appear in police court for allegedly buying drinks for the house . . . with customer's money.

Chester Baldocci, 21 Hillcrest drive, signed the complaint charging Bacon with petty theft.

The unhappy victim of the joke told police this story:

During a conversation at the bar last Tuesday evening Baldocci opened his wallet to show a friend some tickets. No sooner had he opened the wallet when Bacon allegedly reached across the bar and plucked out two $1 bills. Placing the bills in the cash register, Bacon announced Baldocci was buying drinks for the house.

Baldocci failed to see the humor in the situation and hauled Bacon into court last Friday where the bartender pleaded innocent. Trial is set for 2 p.m. September 29.

What's In A Name?

Mateo peninsula," or "San Francisco peninsula" rose up in arms. Sounding the attack, the various officials around the city halls and chambers of commerce deluged Washington, D. C., with vitriolic protests.

Why, they asked, the new name?

George Renner, a geographer at Columbia university, explained that until now the area has been going under the nondescript title of the "Peninsula." Feeling something more was needed, the geographers hit on Santa Cruz, as the mountains by that name (often referred to as the San Mateo hills) run up the area.

Weakening before the onslaught, the government this week indicated it probably won't "cede" the area to Santa Cruz. However, the danger now is that the name may be "San Francisco peninsula," a fate worse than rain for most San Mateo county residents.

In fact, this week San Francisco Mayor Elmer Robinson winged his way to the nation's capital to put in a good word for "annexation" of the "Peninsula" to the Bay city.

Although he can't make the trip to Washington, Daly City's Mayor Paul Green also had a few words to say about the situation today. In a letter addressed to Dr. Burrill, the mayor asserted "San Mateo peninsula" is the only suitable name for this area.

Following is the mayor's dispatch:

Dear Sir:

You are aware of the controversy existing since your Board has listed the Peninsula between San Francisco Bay and Monterey Bay as "Santa Cruz Peninsula." You are quoted in the newspapers as follows: "If anybody can come up with a good name for the whole mass from San Francisco to Monterey Bay — a name that is not ambiguous — we'll be happy as a clam at high tide."

It is respectfully suggested that the peninsula in question be more aptly named "San Mateo Peninsula," for the following reasons:

a. To the more than one million residents of the Bay Area, "The Peninsula" means San Mateo county, and has for many years. The public will continue to use the designation regardless of what name is decided upon by your Board.

b. The largest length of coastline —both on San Francisco Bay to the east, and on the Pacific Ocean to the west — is in San Mateo county. Both San Francisco and Santa Cruz counties have only nominal peninsula coastlines by comparison.

c. San Mateo county is the most beautiful county in the area. It contains regional parks, golf courses, the metropolitan area airport, the largest land area on the peninsula and is the fastest growing county on the peninsula.

Hoping the designation "San Mateo Peninsula" will make you "happy as a clam at high tide."

Yours very truly,

PAUL GREEN, Mayor

New Invention To Eliminate Fog Belts

came across the machine. Pleasants referred to another successful experiment of his know nationally as NOFOG. This is a special chemical which sends gasses into the air, breaking up the water particles and dispersing the fog. Five years ago he used this chemical to break up 16 miles of fog away from the Golden Gate channel.

The chemical process was an accident, Pleasants candidly admits. Back in 1930 he was experimenting with chemicals in an effort to cool automobile engines. While working on this invention, he noted that the mixture cleared fog in the area immediately around his work.

Giving up his original purpose, Pleasants patented the compound as a fog dispeller and was given favorable write ups by several national magazines and internationally-read newspapers.

With this new interest, Pleasants turned to a method of dispersing fog which wasn't quite so costly. While in the midst of this experiment his son discovered a common factor of all such processes. It was on this factor that Pleasants based his present plans for the Hygrotrol.

Simply, the unit (it derives its name from hygro meaning atmospheric moisture, and trol from control; which equals atmospheric moisture control) emits impulses that ionize the atmosphere close to the ground. This condenses the moisture and lifts the fog. The fog and water vapors are either revaporized or blown away by faster winds of the higher atmosphere.

As the units cost but $750, and as the operating expense is low, it is entirely possible that enough of them can be put in an area to almost completely eliminate fog, Pleasants said.

While the majority of the residents around the experimental unit are mystified by the technical aspects of the machine, the majority are agreed Pleasants is really doing a job of controlling the weather.

Mayor Paul Green said this week he was certain the machine "has great possibilities."

Orrin Wendling, city administrative officer, noted that when the unit has been in operation he has noticed a definite "hole in the fog" in the immediate area.

Robert Haddle, manager of a service station on the corner of Junipero Serra and Ninety-first, admitted he didn't understand the theory of the machine, but noted; "Since the day he started, we've been in a clear spot. At first I didn't know what had happened; with fog all around us, it was like somebody had cut the stuff with a knife."

Others who have come in contact with Pleasants and his fog dispelling unit equally praise the effectiveness of his invention.

Asked why he had chosen the Broadmoor-Colma area for his test, Pleasants explained it was an ideal area as he was almost certain of fog week in and week out. This may not agree with the chamber of commerce, but Pleasants who believes in not only talking about the weather, but doing something about it, isn't worried.

"If everything goes well, not only will my invention be a boon to airports (in Sacramento's airport over a three-month period the unit cut fog-bound days down 50 per cent), but to anyone who lives in this area and has longed to see the sun more than a few days out of the year."

Voters Call For Approval Of Bond Issue

housing problem for the Board of Trustees, and presented a challenge to the district supeintendent, James L. Snell.

Mr. Snell has worked tirelessly with the district architect, Mario Ciampi, and the state school departments necessary to the proper planning in areas contemplating use of state funds, and has greatly expedited the program.

It has been a big job, but indications are that it has been well done, and now is the time for each and everyone of us to back this program with their "Yes" vote.

Most Sincerely,

HELEN M CHEATHAM

The second letter is from Herb Kraling, active Westlake resident, who has done much to assure the success of the coming school bond election.

This Friday, September 29, will be Bond-Voting Day.

On that day we decide whether we borrow a few dollars and build a school or two and add rooms to the ones we have now, or whether we keep our present split-shift system. It's a situation much likened to teeth, if we choose to let 'em slide along for a while, we're going to be faced with a whopper of a bill later on. So while we've only got a little bitty cavity let's get it fixed before it really gets to be something.

We all remember the pyramid clubs and supposedly they doubled and re-doubled. Only difference is our little problems will keep doubling and re-doubling and it could go so far as to be a twenty-four-hour deal. I can just imagine the midnight shift in school. You've noticed how easy it seems to get money with the march of progress. If a stretch of highway becomes too crowded and narrow for safety and efficiency, it isn't long before corrective action is taken and so it should be with us and our problem of adequate schools.

The state has a fund allocated for the use of needy school districts, and heaven knows ours is needy. It's ours for the asking—but before we can ask we've got to find out if enough of our people want to borrow the money. The amount set aside is two hundred million, of which we are going to need two and one-half to three million. Not much money really when we consider the benefits we'll reap. In the Westlake area the plans are set — all we need is the cabbage, and we can send out bids, and the rest of the project will deal with expansion of the present schools in the older districts.

There are two propositions to this deal — A and B. Both must pass before funds are made available to us. So if we're going to keep abreast of the times, we must make sure both A and B are passed with a two-thirds voting majority.

And as a couple of thoughts to consider: San Francisco is crowded now so the natural influx by the population will be Daly City and adjacent territory; the world situation being what it is may bring sharp curtailment to building and material and while we fiddle around and hem and haw the kids will be growing up and as far as I know no one has found a way to arrest their growth till we make up our minds.

gram which will be made possible only if voters approve the bond issue today:

1. A 14-classroom school in Westlake. This will include grades from kindergarten through the sixth, with 12 elementary rooms, 2 kindergarten rooms, a library, general use room, and other standard facilities.

2. An 18-classroom school in Broadmoor, on the upper Garden Village school site. This includes the classrooms, two home economics rooms, a shop, a music room, administration, and other facilities. This will be for grades 6 to 8.

3. A 23-classroom school, upper and lower, in Colma at Hillside and Market. This includes two kindergarten rooms, a home economics room, a shop, tow libraries and a multiple use unit.

4. A multi-use room at Woodrow Wilson primary school (estimated area 6,780 square feet), in addition to paving for the school grounds.

5. Six additional classrooms for the lower Garden Village school, including a library, kindergarten, multi-purpose room and so on.

Parades

Last night, September 28, the necessity of passing the issue was sounded loud and clear through the streets of Daly City, Broadmoor and Westlake, as a parade of interested citizens called for a "yes" on today's voting.

Streams of cars, covered with banners, called on every voter to go to the polls today.

Whether or not all the effort to "educate" the voters has failed will be decided when the final vote is counted tonight.

Donors

Meanwhile, the Citizens' Committee for Schools wishes to take this opportunity to thank the following donors to the campaign fund. Their generous donations made it unnecessary for the finance committee to contact the many other friends and well wishers of the School Bonds among the merchants and citizens of Daly City.

Following names were listed by Pete Markovich, chairman of the finance committee:

Thieves' Mop Job Costs Firm $22

"Cleaning out" the Hill King Stop restaurant with the concern's own mop, unidentified thieves got away with $22 in cash last Thursday evening, Police Chief W. W. Sunderland reported today.

The enterprising thugs entered the establishment by tearing off the locked back door screen with the handle of the restaurant's mop left in the alley. Turning to the other end of the cleaning instrument, the thieves broke out the glass in the door with the soft end of the mop.

Entering the restaurant through the broken door window, the burglars emptied the cash register of $22, Troy Kinton, owner of the establishment, told police.

Two Suicides Here In 24 Hour Period

day by neighbors Eugene and Bernard Mullen.

Relatives attribute his death to his despondency over the death of his wife, Mrs. Lilly Mullen, last July.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Josephine Jones. Funeral services were held Wednesday from W. C. Lasswell mortuary. Interment was at Golden Gate National Cemetery.

First indications that Lover had committed suicide were discovered by his wife returning home from a shopping trip at 1:36 p.m. Tuesday. She found his suicide note on a table, and a moment later saw the shadow of his body swaying back and forth on the dinette room wall.

When police arrived they found Lover had hanged himself in the alleyway of the home.

Ill health was attributed by his wife as the cause of her husband's death, police said.

Funeral arrangements are now pending at W. C. Lasswell and Company.

VILLAGE NOTES

BROADMOOR, GARDEN VILLAGE, COLMA
by
Mrs. Mark Swoverland
PLaza 5-4158

Hi there, how's the old world treating you this fine day?

Now that clubs are starting their fall terms there will be plenty of club news, so let's start it off.

Here and There

Hear tell the VFW canasta party was quite successful with a number of nice prizes being given. It was held at the home of Mrs. Gloria Markman on MacArthur drive. Fifteen people attended.

The chairmen of the American Red Cross display branch of public information, Mrs. C. McDoweil and Mrs. Julie Gregg, have been visiting around this area arranging for pre-American Red Cross window display to be held in local towns the early part of March. Choice displays will enter the county display.

Here's some more Red Cross news that should be of interest to everyone. The Red Cross will supply this district with the needed equipment and a teacher, if enough people are interested, to take part in a First Aid and Home Nursing contest. I will have more definite information on this early next month.

Thornhill

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Diedericksen returned from spending a few days at Russian River.

The William L. Hubrecht's baby, Michael William, was christened last week at the Our Lady of Victory church in San Francisco. Mrs. Anna Hubrecht was the godmother.

Dog lovers beware . . . . . .

The Macklin's big lovable old dog Waldo was poisoned this week. The poison was quick acting, so that he didn't have a chance. The Macklins have gone to a toxologist to determine just what it was, so until more is learned, keep your pet close to home. We sure will miss him.

Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Moffitt returned from a week's vacation in Yosemite.

Here and There

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCourtney and children of Sullivan street have moved to a lovely home on the hillside.

Please don't forget to vote YES September 29 for the School Bonds.

Lutheran Church Announces Topic

Last Sunday, Lutheran Church of Broadmoor was privileged to hear a China missionary. Rev. SLOW WARM-UP

Slow warming up of your automobile motor is advised by the California State Automobile Association. By so doing, the oil in the engine is allowed to reach and lubricate vital parts before high speed is attained.

KEEPS THEM FLYING

Pigeons have no appreciation of the finer things, as for example, city architecture. A new invention —inverted V-shaped wire pigeon-proofing — keeps them and their unsightly smears off building facades, cornices and ledges. Made from Monel wire that will last through years of all kinds of weather, the pigeon-proofing doesn't hurt the pigeon, merely keeps him from landing.

LEGAL SPEED LIMIT

In school zones, always slow down to the legal speed limit of 15 miles per hour, required when children are entering or leaving school, during recess or when school playgrounds are in use. Remember, says the California State Automobile Association, that a playing child may dash in front of your car, and unless you are traveling at slow speed, a serious accident may result.

SYMBOL OF A DAY...
A World dwarfed by the shadow of the Cross!
It is the symbol of a day when earthly turmoil and tension are calmed by heavenly vision . . . when men's hearts turn in unison toward God.
That day is World-Wide Communion Sunday. Millions of Christian men and women in every corner of the Earth will come to their churches. Together, according to the customs of their Faith, they will worship and pray. Then, reverently, they will participate in the world's most sacred religious rite—The Lord's Supper.
We all pray that the symbol of this day will, at length, become the symbol of a year, a century, eternity. A World dwarfed by the shadow of the Cross is Christianity's unwavering aim!
As you and your family—and your neighbor and his family—worship Christ on World-Wide Communion Sunday, we move together toward that cherished goal!
HOLY BIBLE
THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Snug Harbor Reports A Mystery; Or, The DC Boys Club Holds A Dance

By Dorothy A. Darling

There is mystery in the air! A mystery that involves every man, woman and child in Daly City. The mystery is about the Daly City Boys Club.

What are those boys doing up at No. 2 Hillside boulevard, and what are some adults doing up there?

Clothed in black, and with a hood to match; this mystic figure sweeps with a noiseless tread over the streets. Into the blackness of the night, whisps of fog envelopes her and sometimes cling like long fingers about her person, to clutch madly at her throat, and agains she is surrounded as if a shroud were about her. The wind shifts, and the fog sifts away slowly caressing her hair. Erie sounds suddenly pierce the air. With a sudden fury she scurries headlong. She sputters out words more dead than alive. I must hurry.

The Daly City Boys Club dance has begun! The erie sound that had pierced the air was symphonized into a harmonious melody.

Well, ladies and gentlemen, that is the way the young folks feel about the dances, held there every Saturday night at 8 and a 10-piece band at that. No monstrosity here. The mystery writer probes further.

It is another hour, a week later. Night must fall. The prince of darkness descends upon us. There is a sudden bursting as of an exploding bladder, a slushy nastiness of a stench as of a thousand opened graves. For an instant the Boys Club was befouled by an acrid and blinding green cloud. A sense of spectral whirling through liquid gulfs of infinity. Like a hysterical plunge from the bottomless pit of hell.

Satan had arrived.

The board of directors and sponsors of the Daly City Boys Club were holding a special meeting. Satan crouched in his ghoul-like apparition, the usual diabolic and infernal hell-born evil wafted unclean, mingled about him and within the shadow of the door. I clung to the wall on the far side of the room in silent terror. My black robe and hood blended in softly with the night, the blackness caressed me like an abode of the blessed. I knew I was safe. This was it! Voices filled the room.

As I listened to the various plans of future benefit for the Club like wrestling matches, the best use of their piano (recent donation) various craft; profits from the dances, amateur night perhaps. It was clear now. The Boys Club was not stagnant slowly they were forging ahead.

I wondered about these people. Directors, active workers, teachers of craft, and sponsors. The basic understanding of their effort is that their own attitude is not one of a gestapo like vigilance over these boys. They are not juvenile delinquents!

To give guidance, to show faith in youth as they eagerly reach out to solve their own interpretations of life's meanings. Like the school bond issue. It is the fundamental needs of our youth.

I thought of other people who could help with this project, I knew that oftentimes we are on a battlefield with our own reason and judgment; we wage war against our various appetites; there is discord and rivalry of our own personal elements or professional problems.

Too often we forget—to remember — there are others with difficulties, problems and desires.

Youth will build the foundation today; their house of tomorrow.

We may be honest individuals, yet are we a thief in the spirit of this thing?

If we be a thief; a deceiver in the accomplishment of this project —what penalty—how to judge, and prosecute youth? A youth who wanders alone and unguarded, commits a wrong unto others and for that wrong committed, suffers remorse greater than their misdeeds. The injured suffers equal. The cost yet to be considered.

As this City continues to grow by leaps and bounds, who will be the first outraged citizen to howl when chaos and confusion results from our neglect to take interest in our community affairs, civic and social functions? We have no National Police force. We have no dictator. Every city is expected to take care of its own. The nation as a whole would have fewer problems.

An unexpected odor assails my nostrils. Was I dreaming? Was I an eccentric nut? another Don Quixote? Such drivel! Satan wasn't really there — or was he? laying plans just in case.

I was in possession of my faculties. That smell was COFFEE. Those people were eating home made cake like maniacs. I should run amuck and demand some for myself.

Charity begins at home. Invest in yourself. Support your own Daly City Boys Club.

Fate Of Toyland Nursery School In The Balance

The future of the Toyland Nursery School, 462 Templeton, is to be decided by the court and the city council on September 29 and October 30, respectively.

This Friday the court will rule on whether or not it is legal for Mrs. Grace Wilson, manager of the school, to operate in a residential district. Presently the nursery is located in Mrs. Wilson's home, and her neighbors complain the children are a "nuisance." Therefore, the neighbors have requested the city to oust Mrs. Wilson.

Should the nursery pass over the Friday hurdle there will be still another, October 30, when a public hearing will be held in the council chambers to decide whether or not the council will grant Mrs. Wilson a use permit for the American Legion building, 474 San Diego.

Mrs. Wilson proposed to move her school to the Legion building so she may accommodate 30 children, instead of the present five. However, before the move can be made the city must grant the permit.

"We feel anyone living in the area who would object to the nursery should be heard before the permit is granted," Mayor Paul Green said as he asked the council to set the hearing for October 30.

Birds Eye View Of Education Given At Meet

What resource material, professional or lay leadership may contribute to parent education discussions was demonstrated to a capacity crowd in the workshops of Seventeenth District California Congress of Parents and Teachers on Monday, September 18. Arrangements for sessions in the Commanders' cottage at the Coyote point Junior college campus were made by Mrs. Edward J. Foley of Burlingame, district parent education chairman.

In a "Bird's-eye View of Parent Education From National and State P-T," Mrs. W. L. Riser of Oakland, State vice - chairman, gave a resume of study groups from "Mothers' Reading Circle in 1890" to the latest technical developments for recording. Mrs. Riser concluded, "Strive to bring up the kind of children who will be able to meet the challenge of our demanding times."

Presentation of the 3 R's curriculum project by Mrs. Elsieann Irvin of Burlingame, district school education chairman, resulted in a lively question period in the workshop. "Parent-Teacher should be just that, and school administrators always should be consulted on child study problems," Mrs. Irvin emphasized.

Mrs. J. M. Foley of San Mateo, junior past president and district parliamentarian, introduced the program and guests, as Mrs. G. J. Sirex of San Carlos, president, was attending the Governor's Conference in Sacramento September 18-19. Accommodations for coffee and tea from the Campus cafeteria were made by Mrs. Robert Palmer and Mrs. Lynden Player, both of San Mateo.

Dramatization of "A parent education committee knee deep in program planning "had as participants Mrs. Verne W. Roberts of Burlingame, district radio committee, Mrs. Clemens Freidell Jr. of San Mateo, mental health chairman, Mrs. Roy N. Cloud Jr. of Redwood City, director of health, Mrs. Jack Charnow of San Mateo, and Mrs. L. A. States of Burlingame.

Edward J. Foley of Burlingame presented the motion picture "Preface to a Life," issued by the Federal Public Health Service and sponsored by the National Mental Health Institute. Three episodes graphically illustrated child guidance principles which may be adopted by parents. Bookings of the film are available through Mr. Foley, San Mateo Social Security administration office.

Use of tape recordings, a pattern for parent discussion groups, and adult education opportunities were outlined by Mrs. Frank Haylock of the Mental Health society, V. M. Robertson of the Peninsula Y.M.C.A. and James Tormey, Junior college adult center director, who welcomed district members and assisted with hospitality.

P.T.A. exhibits were arranged by Mrs. Carl Hilpisch of Belmont and Mrs. Chas. D. Raudebaugh of South San Francisco, literature chairmen, Mrs. Clemens Freidell of San Mateo, mental health, Mrs. D. H. Chapman of Redwood City, social hygiene, Mrs. Harry Gettins of Burlingame, international relations, and Mrs. G. P. Walsh of Menlo Park, P-T magazines.

D. C. Councilmen Attend Meeting

Councilmen Fred Bertetta and J. H. Kennedy this week represented Daly City at the regular meeting of the League of California Cities in Redwood City.

Bertetta reports that the principal topic under discussion was civilian defense. Many of the cities in the League (which includes the majority of large California communities) have gone ahead with elaborate plans for defense, Bertetta learned.

"I was free in voicing my disapproval of this action," Bertetta said. "I believe it will save much money and confusion if the cities will wait until a national, or state policy is set up for civilian defense.

"Certainly, we should lay the groundwork for such defense, as Daly City has, with the enlisting of the aid of key officials and experts, but it seems foolish at this time to spend thousands of dollars for equipment."

The Daly City councilman was quick to add that, as soon as deemed feasible, he and the rest of the council will not hesitate to do everything in their power to protect Daly City from possible emergencies. And this time will be when the state, or Washington, D. C. gives the word.

Downs 30 Scoops To Become New Ice Cream Champ

The ice cream devouring contest at Ice Cream Land, 2195 Junipero Serra Blvd., is getting down to serious business, it was learned from James M. Denny, proprietor.

Daily onslaughts are made on the high score by envious youths and as a consequence, new totals are going by the boards, one, two, three.

Jack Crawford of Daly City is top man today, or was at the time this was written. He jammed and crammed until he had punished 30 full scoops of ice cream!

Jim Denny related that it was quite something to see. He said Jack warmed up by first consuming a bulging milk shake and then two overflowing cones.

With that Jack went to work in earnest. In a nonce, he smothered a dozen scoops. But then he came up for air and a breather.

When number twenty went by the boards, Jack began to feel as though there was a refrigerator inside him, both in sense of chilliness and size.

But he kept going, even though the pace had slowed to that of a snail's. Nevertheless, at the end of four hours and much kidding, the total revealed 30 scoops.

As he waddled out of Ice Cream Land, Jack gurgled that he wasn't finished, instead he would try again, especially as Tom Storey, former champion, promised to eat 40 scoops to hold the record.

Meanwhile, Jim Denny announced that he has several interesting plans for the students at Jefferson High school, one of which is free ice cream cones for each one.

YOUR DALY CITY GARDEN CLUB NEWS

By ELSIE M. GARRISON

At the monthly meeting of the Daly City Garden Club, which was held at the home of Mrs. H. Miguel, the theme for the evening was in the hands of the members themselves, namely, an evaluation. This was a good idea, inasmuch as it afforded each member the opportunity to "speak his mind" for better or worse. Any organization that wishes to remain healthy and progressive must know the feelings of its members, and whether it is fulfilling the need upon which its existence was predicated.

Far from being a "mutual admiration" sort of thing, this series of talks, involving the individual point of view, brought out the fact that the programs, during the past year have been of great practical help—and the examples given were concrete ones. The aesthetic influence also was in evidence, as some members, while not actual "gardeners," nevertheless seemed to find a greater appreciation of beauty in growing things, and a greater satisfaction in the social enterprise, revolving on a mental, moral and physical plane. The spiritual side was brought out very simply and sincerely, being always an underlying factor in the gardener's experience. No one in tune with nature can be out of tune with God.

Discussion

There was some constructive criticism and the need for a regular designated meeting place, fast becoming a problem, was discussed. I for one will be sorry when we assume larger quarters, for the informality of the home is conducive to harmony, and the home-made cake and cookies served are no small inducement to the male contingent. But our homes and facilities are just not going to be able to expand much further, and we are hoping the long-promised and adjacent Community Center, will soon begin construction so that our bid can be handled, and we can better chart the future of the organization.

It was with a sense of loss that we bid our program chairman, Mrs. Don Hiett, a fond adieu. She is taking up residence in the East Bay. Mrs. Miguel has since entertained in her behalf, members, guests and neighbors presenting her with a gift, which was accepted with pleasure and surprise.

Getting back to the meeting, Shirl Mollette gave a very interesting, informal talk about his recent trip to the different Redwood Groves. So many residents of this area are new to this part of the country, and have not as yet journeyed the comparatively short distance to see what draws people from all over the globe.

Old Trees

These old monarchs are estimated to be over two thousand years old. The oldest trees in existence, they are practically impervious to pests, and even the greatest menace to trees, fire, does not deter them, and it is not unusual to see withered and partly deteriorated trunks supporting "branches" seventy-five feet high. Where there are many such branches these trees develop into unusual shapes. Alongside towering giants three hundred and sixty feet high, are so-called "family trees, which spread out fan-shaped, in all directions. Some of the more impressive groves have been treated to a twentieth-century innovation, that of wired organ music, for the benefit of the tourists, I guess, originally. This music, with natural acoustics of the surrounding trees, does have a deep effect, and in spite of the many people helps maintain a cathedral-like atmosphere. Many memorial groves have been dedicated in a real way, to perpetuate the memory of persons whose lives were an inspiration and heritage, so like the trees themselves.

Fires

In spite of the warnings from all sides, the fires this year seemed even worse than other years. Labor Day was no holiday for the hundreds of fire-fighters in Lake and Mendocino counties. Even those holiday bound were stopped and all able-bodied men pressed for service. The last day of my vacation the smoke was so bad one could hardly see the other side of the small lake, and the sun was obscured, except where it could be seen reflecting readily upon the foliage. It was very depressing, I can assure you, and an unhappy climax to what was a wonderful vacation and rest.

The next meeting of the Daly City Garden Club will feature a "Mad Hatter" night with all chapeaux worn, a creation of garden flowers plus a little ingenuity. I am terribly curious to see what the men "will wear." This ought to stump them. The nominating committee no doubt will be on hand with a few surprizes of their own, so all members are urged to attend this meeting. It will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shirl Mollette, 14 Muirwood drive, Tuesday, October 3.

BAYSHORE VISITACION VALLEY

By Bernice Hendryx JUniper 4-6449

Our Community Chest drive in Bayshore will take place this Sunday, October 1. It will be a one-hour drive, with volunteers going from door to door between the hours of one and two in the afternoon. Valley people are asked to be at home during this short time, to put us over the top on our quota.

Here's a boys-will-be-boys item. Jimmie Throne and Jim Mills took turns on little Jimmie Mills' motor scooter the other afternoon. Neither of these gents is in the small-fry category, and thuds and groans were heard on Rio Verde street as they made with "look, no hands" on the turns. That is one way of proving to yourself that it is later than you think.

Miss N. Lipman, Bayshore school superintendent, was the speaker at the Bayshore PTA meeting held September 22. She introduced the teachers to the parents, and held a question and answer period for the parents' benefit. Refreshments were served, and the attendance was high, with many new faces in the group.

Dance

The Mr. and Mrs. Club dance went off on schedule last Saturday night, and from all reports, it was a hilarious success. It was a Centennial dance, and among those present were old-time gamblers, cowboys, cowgirls and Indians. Only one gun fight was reported. Cap-guns at twenty paces between two hot-headed cow pokes.

We are still fighting it out with the county over the way the water backs up after a rain at the Schwerin-Geneva corner. After a heavy rain, pedestrians cannot get across the street at the corner without wading to their ankles. There was a tentative promise made to the district that something would be done about this when the street was widened. Well, the street has been widened, without anything in the contract about that corner. At a recent meeting of the Improvement Club, it was moved that another letter be written to the county, demanding some action on this situation. It is an old fight, but we are hopeful that if we keep howling long enough, they will do something about it.

Don Tarbox returned from his deer hunting trip, minus a buck, but bearing as evidence a quarter of bear meat. Honest Mom, he was in the tall timber.

New Member

A new member has been appointed to the Bayshore Elementary School Board. At the September meeting of the board, Leslie Haines of 112 MacDonald avenue was named to replace Paul Thomas, who has moved out of the district. The board reported that the resurfacing of the school yard was completed, and that new drains had been installed on the Schwerin street side of the school property.

Mrs. Mae Painchaud, Bayshore PTA president, and Mrs. S. Dalie, this year's Founders' Day chairman, attended the September district meeting of the PTA at Pescadero.

The Women's Bayshore Fire Auxiliary is giving a bazaar on October 6, at the Sanitation hall. The bazaar opens its doors at nine in the morning, and will continue its sale until they run out of merchandise. Some of the items will be crochet work, towels, aprons, and children's pinafores. The highlight of the bazaar is a beautiful handmade shawl, which will be raffled. The tickets will be sold only at the Sanitation hall, on the day the bazaar is held. Come early, and take your choice.

Scouting

It is reported that a committee meeting will be held Friday, September 29, to see whether the Cub Scouts can get adult leadership in the valley. Earl Frank, Cubmaster, is hopeful of getting the year's program underway for the Cub dens in the near future.

The Filarski family no sooner got settled from their Tahoe vacation than they had a houseful of welcome company. Alene's brother, with his wife and five children and father-in-law, week-ended with them. They made the trip up from the valley for a blow-by-blow description of Louis' and Alene's summer vacation.

An interdenominational church school has been started in the valley.

The Baptist church has offered its facilities to teachers who come in to give the youngsters general religious training. A large number of the Bayshore elementary school have signed up for this training. The time is taken from the school hours, by children whose parents have signed the written request, sent home through the children last week. For any of the parents who did not receive the notice, you may contact the school for information.

This religious training is timed to approximately forty-five minutes, one day a week, and the youngsters are grouped according to school grade.

The month of October has been designated Loyalty Week by the Bayshore Baptist Church. It is an effort on the part of the church to interest people who now do not attend church regularly in coming to services again. The reverend's message Sunday morning will be "Comfort in Life." The Sunday evening service will be "Men's Relationship to God."

CAST IRON ONCE PRECIOUS

Iron was considered a precious metal by the ancient Egyptians. As early as 332 B. C. iron was being cast into various forms used for making swords, armor and ornaments, and other evidences of iron date back as far as 8,000 years ago. Only in recent years was it discovered that the addition of nickel produced a cast iron which was definitely stronger, tougher, more uniform in texture and more resistant to wear and rust than ordinary cast iron. Today many thousand pounds of Canadian nickel are used for this purpose.

COLOR CHANGER

An unusual property of nickel is its effect as a decolorizer in various alloys. This is strikingly evident in the production of white gold where the addition of 15% nickel and 5% zinc produces a gold alloy of extreme whiteness and excellent strength characteristics, properties which particularly make it suitable for precious stone settings.

NEWS OF YOUR NEIGHBORS

Brent Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, 274 Evergreen, is now undergoing treatment in a South San Francisco hospital for rheumatic fever. Brent, who will be 8 years old in October, is being given the new drug Cortisone. Mrs. Smith said the results will not be known for two weeks. However, at present he seems to be responding nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nelson, 38 Vendome avenue, visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chisbolm in Sacramento over the past week. Their son Charles Nelsson Jr. drove them down, and remained for his mother's seventy-second birthday, which was celebrated at her daughter's home in Sacramento. The Nelssons have resided in Daly City for the past 42 years.

David P. Hardister, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hardister, 244 Rio Verde street, Bayshore City, was one of 176 of the first Bay area men called up by selective service Monday. He left home Monday for training at Fort Ord. During World War II David served for over a year with the U. S. Merchant Marines.

Lt. and Mrs. Robert P. Harris were visiting with Lt. Harris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd S. Harris, 239 Peoria, this week. However, a call to duty has taken Lt. Harris from his vacation, and he reported at Camp Pendleton September 28 for duty with the First Marine Division. Following a few weeks at Pendleton, Lt. Harris will be sent to Japan and thence to Korea to join his buddies of World War II. It was in the First division that Lt. Harris spent many months during the last war. Meanwhile, his wife, and their 18-month-old baby girl and two-month-old baby boy will stay with Lt. Harris parents' home.

James Sarrett, 8 Flournoy street, didn't fancy going to school Monday, so the 11-year-old boy ran away from his home, police reported. However, he was found in time to attend school the next day. Young James reports he enjoyed his one-day holiday, although his reception at home was far from cool.

Diana Evanson, two - year - old daughter of Mr .and Mrs. Evanson, 150 First avenue, is keeping away from all strange looking bottles today. The Daly City youngster Friday explored a top shelf in her home and came up with a small bottle. Uncorking same she smelled the contents, and satisfied it might be a good drink, took a healthy swallow of the dark fluid. A few minutes later a doctor at Junipero Serra hospital was pumping out Diana's stomach. Diana had mistaken a bottle of spot remover for pop. Hospital authorities today reported the youngster will recover from her drink.

George Wheeler is now circulating petitions in Daly City to eliminate cross filing by political candidates. Those interested in signing such a proposition, or assisting with passing out the petitions are asked to contact Wheeler by calling PLaza 5-2534.

Nancy Banfield, 18-year-old Jefferson Union High School girl, of 355 Woodrow street, was taken to Junipero Serra hospital Wednesady with a dislocated knee. She was injured when she fell on the high school field. She was sent home after treatment by a physician.

Golden Bears Play Oregon This Sat.

California's Golden Bears open their 1950 Pacific Coast Conference crown defense in Portland this week end against the University of Oregon.

The Bears will leave by air from the Oakland Airport at 9 a.m. Friday and will leave Portland by air at 6 p.m. Saturday after the game. While in Portland, the Californians will stay at the Multnomah Hotel.

In meeting the Ducks, Coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf's Bears will be attempting to break the conference victory record at 18 straight games. Presently, the Bears are co-holders of the mark with Southern California at winning 17 consecutive PCC frays.

Two other questions immediately get into the act when Saturday's 24th Oregon-California game is considered. How will California's green line perform against old veterans of conference competition like Dave Gibson, Chet Daniels, Bob Anderson and Dick Patrick, all sturdy performers for Oregon last year? And second, how will the young Californians do in their first game away from home?

The Santa Clara game answered a lot of questions last week. The quarterbacking was found to be adequate, even though the Bear passing game wasn't the potent weapon of old. The middle of the line made mistakes in its first varsity outing. The defensive line potential, but the the Bronco attack was zooming through it for considerable gains, especially in the early afternoon. Lots of work is going to be necessary on pass defense.

THE COMMUNITY CHEST

It shouldn't be necessary to convince anyone that the Community Chest deserves his support. The work of the Community Chest in the many cities where it operates has demonstrated its value so unmistakably that there is no room for argument.

In too many instances, however, the support which such an organization deserves and what it gets are two very different things. Failure to reach the quota — and the quota covers only the community's minimum needs —leaves a serious gap in providing essential charitable aid and health and recreational services.

Frequent failures to meet quotas due to public indifference has also caused the return to the practice of many separate drives for funds by various organizations. To eliminate multiple money raising campaigns was one of the prime purposes of the Community Chest.

It is up to every citizen to ask himself this question: Can I afford not to give to the Community Chest? If he answers that question honestly the drive in every city will go over the top.

WORLD SERIES

Some 30 million fans are going to be "in the stands" for the baseball classic of the year — the World Series —when it is played next week. They'll be seeing it via television as far west as Omaha and Kansas City. In all, about 49 cities will view the event through the eyes of 76 TV stations.

Three of the major television networks will join in televising the games, and a fourth will handle the radio broadcast. The sponsor, the Gillette Safety Razor Co., is paying $975,000 for the rights to the games. Most of this — $800,000 — is for television and $175,000 for radio. Seven hundred and fifty radio stations will carry the story around the globe.

Maybe by the fall of 1951 or the year after, television will be able to "see" as far as the West Coast. We hope so, for the fans out here are just as anxious to sit in on the big event as those in Philadelphia, Boston, New York or Detroit. There's nothing local about big league baseball.

WESTLAKE WHIRL

by Marian Christians PLaza 5-0946

Melanie Hexberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Hexberg, 97 Fieldcrest drive, celebrated her eighth birthday September 15. She entertained 10 young friends with a luncheon and theatre party.

Mr. and Mrs. Hexberg and Melanie have just returned after spending the summer at their Kings' Mountain home.

Capt. Jerome F. Christians has just returned from active duty at the Coronado naval base where he took the P-1 Amphibious training course.

Needless to say, it's this Friday, September 29, when the residents of Westlake will be called on to approve a bond issue for the construction of new schools in Westlake and the Daly City area.

All of us are certain of the necessity of the school — if for no other reason than to settle the dust in the block allotted for the building — but there may be some of our neighbors who are not so sure. Consequently, it is necessary for each and every one of you to get out and vote "yes" on Friday. For unless the bond issue passes by a two-thirds majority it will fail.

The central poll for Westlake is located at the home of Charles Becker, 5 Fieldcrest drive. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., so be certain to vote.

Sunday is another important day on the calendar as then the "quicky" one - hour Community Chest drive will be held in Westlake. This year the drive is under the leadership of Mrs. Leonard Oppenheim, 36 Cliffside drive. She is in need of volunteers to help with the collection work during the afternoon. Anyone interested in giving a helping hand is requested to contact her at PLaza 5-5617.

Mrs. Martin Olsen, 85 Lake Forest drive, is recovering in Palo Alto hospital today after an emergency operation Sunday evening. Further details are lacking at this time.

Herb Kraling, 114 Westlawn, is in navy uniform today. The well-known Daly City resident reported for duty with the Seabees this Monday. He is now undergoing processing at the Treasure Island base, and expects to be sent forth from these parts at any time. During the last war he served eight years with Uncle Sam's air force in the Far East.

Jeff PTA To Hold Board Meeting

A board meeting of the Jefferson Union High School PTA will be held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Freida Pistohl, 45 Solano avenue, Brisbane.

The first regular PTA meeting is scheduled a week later when the annual Teachers Reception is staged at the high school. Mrs. Byron Jensen, PTA president, vwill preside over both meetings.

Twenty members had luncheon at the Sir Francis Drake Starlite Room at the PTA's initial meeting three weeks ago.

IMPORTANT ELECTRONIC METAL

More than four decades ago, when Dr. Lee De Forest developed his historic triode vacuum tube, he made the elements of platinum, but after the success of his first triode, Dr. De Forest began the search for a more economical metal with which to construct his tube elements — one that was inexpensive, workable, stable, and which had exceptional electrical resistance. He found his answer in pure nickel, a material that to this day has never been supplanted for practical, critical highprecision, mass-produced electrical tubes.

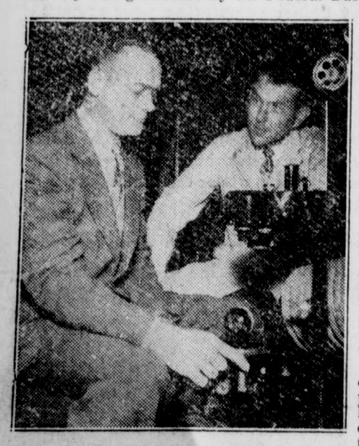
MARINE NON-COM QUALIFIES IN F.B.I.

Marine T/Sgt. James C. Venable, formerly of Frisco, Texas, recently was graduated by the Federal Bureau of Investigation National Academy on the Marine Corps base at Quantico, Virginia. Although a veteran of hard Marine campaigns in World War II and a survivor of the defense of Wake Island and 44 months in Japanese prison camps, Venable was much impressed by the amount of small arms practice given at the FBI academy.



T/Sgt. Venable (right) is given details of operation of powerful microscope in FBI laboratory.

"We fired 250 rounds the first day," he said, "and thereafter received extensive practice with the .38 caliber revolver. This instruction and practice in small arms I think were especially worth while."

The over-all objective of the FBI course is to provide training to selected groups of peace officers in the latest trends in crime detection and investigative procedure so that they may return to their respective agencies as instructors and administrators.

Venable, who is 29 years old, joined the Marines in 1939. After World War II he served 14 months on the police force of Dallas, Texas, and received a merit reward as a traffic patrolman. He returned to the Marine Corps in 1947. He is married and has two children, his wife being the former Mary L. Walker of Sulphur Springs, Texas.

Many recipes have been looked over, exchanged, discarded and looked over again. The refreshment booth is staffed by members of Court St. Mary's, Catholic Daughters of America, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Susan Schroeder, Mrs. Lee Miller and Mrs. Valetta Ennis and they intend to supply such a variety of foods that the most exacting of gourmets will be satisfied.

So many booths and games have been planned that some of them have overflowed, so several games will be set up in the parish garages which face Wellington avenue. Baseball throw, string games, etc. will be under the direction of Mr. Bill Carrington and the Holy Name Society.

The Italian flower booth, with Mrs. Alma Garibaldi in charge, has always been one of the most popular of booths and this year will be no exception. Daly City has many gardening enthusiasts who should not miss this chance to add to the beauty of their gardens.

Is your little girl or some favorite small niece making a doll cillection? Stop at the doll booth where a bevy of Holland belles will display beautifully dressed dolls impossible to resist.

All these and many other attractions will be presented for the pleasure of Daly Cityites and their friends on October 13, 14 and 15. Don't forget the doors will be open at 7 o'clock Friday night, 6 o'clock Saturday night and 1 p. m. Sunday and continue until late Sunday evening. Admission is free and all are invited! Quinones Pitches No Hit, No Run Game Sunday

Another Daly City ball player stepped into the hall of fame this week. He is Gilbert Quinones, who pitched a no-hit, no-run game for Sarto's last Sunday.

The Mission High school baseball ace was on the mound against the Mission Kiwanis. There wasn't a moment during the kame in which Quinones didn't have the ball under control and the batters completely frustrated.

At the end of the nine innings, Quinone had struck out 25 of the Kiwanis' best men.

Final score in the game was 3 to 0 in favor of Sarto's.

The Sarto A.C. also had a good day Sunday taking the San Francisco Hornets 9 to 3.

This Sunday at noon the Sarto A.C. will meet the Martinburn team at Marchbanks. No game has been scheduled as yet for Sarto's.

Daly City Sportswomen Invited To Enter Competitive Shooting

by Mrs. E. K. Whinnen

On Tuesday evening, October 24, the Daly City Sportswomen are invited to enter a competitive shooting meet by the Pacific Rod and Gun Club at their club house on Lake Merced.

As far as the Sportswomen are concerned it will be an intraclub affair. The members will be shooting competitively among themselves for the trophy or medal the Pacific Rod and Gun club is offering for the best shooting.

From here it looks as if Frances Nenstiel will carry home the honors as she has been going down to Sharp Park with Hobby Ed and practicing diligently. We do hope to give her a little competition, though.

Mary Shalkowski and I covered the Silvie Olivia striped bass selling trial September 24 at the Hall of Justice on Kearney street. It was an interesting experience, not without humor. Mr. Hornblower's (council for the defense) antics were an interesting contrast to the quiet, soft spoken dignity of the prosecuting attorney. Repeatedly Judge Allen had to warn Mr. Hornblower to let the witness or opposing attorney finish what he was saying before starting his own harangue. At one time when Silvie Olivie was on the stand, Mr. Hornblower jumped up, shook his finger repeatedly at Mr. Olivia and shouted, "You're asking for it, you're asking for it." Mr. Olivia was talking too much, evidently, and his attorney didn't like it.

Just before the court recessed for a breathing spell, Mr. Hornblower asked for a dismissal on the grounds that Mr. Olivia's responsibility for the acts of his employees had not been established. The motion was denied. The remaining charge to be proven was possession. Whether that was proved to Judge Allen's satisfaction, or not, will not be known until November 15 when the verdict will be rendered. Mr. Olivia waived jury trial, so the verdict is in the lap of Judge Allen.

The meeting of the 20th was small. Mary Shalkowski and Mary Sullivan, delegates to District Council 7, reported on the last meeting. Mary Shalkowski also reported on the Silvie Olivia trial, where she also represented District Council 7. The trial came up so unexpectedly it caught everyone flat footed and Jimmy Fox, president of Council 7, could not get away from his duties at Roos Brothers, where he now heads the sports department. He asked Mary to pinch hit for him

Monterey Legion Post Announces Turkey Shoot

With hundreds of prime Thanksgiving turkeys as prizes, plans were being completed today for the 16th Annual Turkey Shoot Sunday, October 8, of Post 41, Monterey Peninsula American Legion, at Tarpey Flats three miles east of Monterey on the Salinas Highway.

The annual Turkey Shoot has become one of northern California's best known and most popular sports events, attracting thousands of top marksmen to the ranges where a committee of 50 Legionnaires handle the various features of the important event with dispatch.

Refreshments and plenty of eats have been provided for participants and visitors. Entrance is free. Funds raised are used for Legion affairs and for community service, Herman T. Olsen, Post commander, and Charles Houseman, Shoot chairman, announced.

Live birds are not used. The big range for heavy calibre rifles features a silhouetted turkey at 235 yards in which a seven-inch white plate is the bullseye. A slight chip of the plate is considered a hit for the lucky marksman. No tracer bullets or telescope sights are permitted.

The .22 rifle range is at 85 yards under the same conditions, while the shotgun ranges are handled on a competitive shooting basis. Marksmen are encouraged to bring their own guns although weapons may be obtained at Tarpey Flats.

One things is certain, thoug South and his right hand ma Clarence Lair, look for the guests to be able to take care themselves. The opinion is bac ed by last autumn's Jeff-Moun ain View tussle, which narrow went to the Redskins 7-0. Oth than this criteria, the southern ers remain a question mark.

But South's troubles, like e eryone's, begin at home. H i hard by the loss of several k prospects and switching from h customary T formation to sing wing maneuvers, the Stanford a umnus awaits today's test as necessary eye opener. Althou today's clash won't count on t Peninsula Athletic League books, (Mountain View is in a other league) it should sett South's curiosity about h team's potential.

Admittedly a pessimist, he do concede that his squad could as well as last autumn's clu which finished with five wi and four setbacks in a classy PA field topped by San Jose Hig His stand is interesting since onl four lettermen were among varsity candidates in Jefferson first turnout three weeks ago.

The departure of giant Jack A lain, 6 feet 8 inch end, to Ser via transfer; the exodus of tack stalwart Verl Humes to San Di go, and the Marine enlistment fine guard Bob Holtzer, couldn be passed off without some r gret.

But sing no sad songs for Sout He's not too gloomy.

Let him take over from here:

"Sure it hurts to lose those goo boys, but we still figure to hol our own. I rate my present lir farther along than any I've ev coached here. At this stage of t season, that is.

"I switched over to the win back system because of my ma terial. We're heavy up front an my backs aren't exactly spee burners. We'll count a lot on su tained drives with a fair amou of passing. Don't look for mar quick sprints to paydirt. Jeff game should be slow and delibe ate with plenty of power alon the way. We have depth, gree perhaps, but coming along. T boys are hustling and the figh for starting positions is close, e pecially in the line."

Power is the word for it. T starting Indian forward wall a erages 188 pounds to the man. N bad as high school weights go.

"Oh, If It Wasn't For That Ninth Inning"... So Moan The Gelsi Nine

The lads who play ball for Gelsi's Cavern are seriously thinking of changing the old game to eight intead of nine innings.

Their decision comes after two weeks of wicked playing in which, after gaining a healthy lead, they dropped the vital points in the ninth inning.

Take last week. It was the top of the ninth and Gelsi's was leading the San Francisco Police department nine by the comfortable score of 6 to 3. The game was in the bag when pitcher Fred Lucia put two men away.

But something happened when the third man stepped to bat. With two men on, he drove a long pop fly into left field. Yep, the fielder caught everything but the fly, and runners scored.

Things got even worse a few minutes later when another fielder also dropped a fly.

By the time the cops were finally put away they had run the score up to 8 to 6.

Harry Krohn looked like he might save the day in the last inning when he hit what should have been a triple, with two men on. However, it bounced out of the park, and was judged only a double. Thus, the two men couldn't score, and the game ended in defeat for Gelsi's.

This Sunday, despite nine innings, the Daly City lads hope to win a victory in Redwood City when they meet the Carlonin nine at 2 o'clock.

Driving Lesson Ends In Wreck

Here's one lesson that isn't in the driver's manual.

Tuesday at 3:16 p.m. Miss Jeanne Keiffer, 23, of San Francisco was taking a driving lesson under the supervision of Fred Schurz of San Francisco. A moment later, as Miss Keiffer turned off Skyline boulevard onto Highway No. 1, her car collided with a machine driven by Isabel Mayberry, 31, Sharp Park.

The two women were both injured in the accident and were taken to Junipero Serra hospital where they are recovering from abrasions and cuts of the face and legs.

The noviee driver told police she went over the yellow line and struck the Sharp Park vehicle, police report today.

Schurz who was teaching his girl friend how to drive told officers: "It's simple, Jeanne stepped on the gas when she should have hit the brakes."

Expansion Of D. C. Recreation Dept. Discussed At Meet

Overall expansion of Daly City's recreation facilities and activities was the objective of city recreation committee members at their monthly confab two weeks ago.

City Administrator Orrin Wendling got approval of a revised recreation ordinance which would establish an advisory recreation committee for Daly City. City council approval is pending on the measure.

Wendling indicated that construction of recreational facilities will move along rapidly. He also reported the progress along that line.

Committee consent was given on recreation department sponsored city-wide Halloween parties, a Sunday softball league for adults, and various folk dance groups.

Consideration of placing a junior leader at Niantic playground to supervise children on crowded days is being made by the committee. Also being studied is morning supervision at Lincoln playground.

Recreation Director Elman Rose reported that average daily attendance on the summer recreation program was over one thousand.

Recreation Committee members are James Hinds, chairman; Ed Cavagnaro, vice-chairman; James Hinds, secretary; R. L. Crane, Mrs. Anne Eason, and Stanford Hannah.

Cubs Entertained By Navy Pictures

The highlight of a recent evening for the boys in Pack 36 was the showing of two navy war pictures.

The fact that they were about 10 years old made little difference to the enthusiastic kids, as the planes zoomed, the ack-ack rattled and the flame throwers spouted flames. It was war in all its horror or glory, depending on how you look at it, and the kids loved it.

The next most exciting thing was a little playlet, put on by Den 16, entitled "Sunday Morning In The Average Family." The cubs were well costumed for their parts and acted them well enough, even if some did forget a line or two. It was nice but was mostly in pantomime as far as the audience was concerned, since it was impossible to hear what was said more than a dozen seats away. It wasn't hard to follow because it was the usual hectic scene with kids bickering, smaller ones crying, all wanting to be served at once, and quibbling over the Sunday morning paper. Yes, quite true to life.

A plea was made for more boys to turn out for baseball so Pack 36 can build a team to equal last year's, or surpass it.

A business meeting of Den Mothers and officials was held during the showing of the pictures.

There will be a picnic Sunday at Golden Gate Park.

Boy-Made Boats in Speed Tests

Outboard motorboat racing has taken a unique turn at Algonac, Mich., whose waterfront used to echo with the roar of "Speed King" Gar Wood. High school students build their own trim little craft in a shop class as part of the curriculum, then race them on the St. Clair River in the summer. This year, 18 student-built boats "graduated" from school to the water and here Pilot Dick Rex makes a hairpin turn in front of a Chevrolet station wagon which his friends drove to the water's edge.

"Henry J" Joins Low Priced Auto Market, Emphasizes Economy

Low initial cost plus great operating economy and exceptional performance are the 1-2-3 features of the all-new Henry J sedan models which go on display at Kaiser-Frazer dealerships across the country tomorrow, it was learned from the Impeartrice Bros., Kaiser-Frazer agency at 7031 Mission street.

Buyers will have a choice of the four-cylinder Henry J and the Henry J Deluxe, six-cylinder model offering greater styling refinements. Both engines are new high-compression "Kaiser Supersonic" L-head types.

Edgar F. Kaiser, K-F president, said prices, to be disclosed tomorrow, will be the lowest in America for a full-size sedan, thus marking the first full-scale new competition in the low-priced auto market in nearly a quarter-century.

Basically, it is the car that Henry J. Kaiser, board chairman, envisioned when Kaiser-Frazer was formed in 1945. Developed on the basis of postwar engineering advances, the Henry J models profitted from prior years of experimentation with 50 prototypes built under Mr. Kaiser's personal direction.

Along with specifications and road test results, the company issued an open challenge to the public to compare Henry J highway and traffic performance, and riding comfort with other makes delivering for hundreds of dollars more.

The company reported that in the most extensive pre-marketing tests ever given a new automobile the Henry J demonstrated its ability to leap from zero to 50 miles an

Mrs. Frances Miller, parent education instructor of the Marina Adult school, showed the film "Human Growth" pointing out that sex education is a job for parents that starts when the child is born and goes on as long as the child seeks guidance from the parents. It is a process of learning what it means to be a boy or girl, and what one's responsibilities are to be a man or woman.

"Henry J" Joins Low Priced Cars

hour in 10 seconds, and to 60 in 14 seconds.

An impartial report on remarkable operating economy was furnished earlier this month when the six-cylinder model delivered 34 miles to the gallon in gasoline mileage tests conducted by the American Automobile Association. The tests, held on the recently-opened New Hampshire Turnpike, were supervised by David L. Cundry of the certified test committee of the A.A.A.

The new model provides the largest luggage capacity of any passenger sedan. It offers a maximum cargo area of 50.3 cubic feet achieved through a utility feature which allows the rear seat back to be folded forward and anchored in place as part of the trunk floor. The convenience of the folding seat feature eliminates need for the traditional rear trunk opening.

The 174¼-inch overall length of the Henry J, together with an overall width of 70 inches, provides spacious seating room for five adult passengers with ample head room and leg room for six-footers.

On 59⅝ inches height, a factor which enabled K-F engineers to achieve an exceptionally low center of gravity, the Henry J is the lowest full-size American sedan. Yet a full road clearance of 7¾ inches is maintained.

Both Henry J sedan models are available with overdrive.

Discussing the new models, the elder Kaiser said, "Early in our low-priced car study we came to the conclusion that the American public doesn't want a 'small' car but rather one of conventional size with ample power and distinctive pride-of-ownership styling.

"We have achieved such an automobile with new standards of value, economy, performance and appearance. Presenting this car is the realization of the proudest ambition of my life."

Arrival of the Henry J models marks K-F's first challenge in the low-priced field. Including them, the company is now nearing production of its first half-million cars. Popular and medium priced models in the 1951 Kaiser and Frazer lines have been in production since last spring.

Rector, Pearson Ins. Agencies To Merge October 1

The Pearson Insurance Agency of San Francisco will merge with the Rector Insurance Agency of Daly City on October 1, it was learned today. The partnership thus formed will make this the largest insurance agency in San Mateo county. There will be twenty-five agents and brokers in their office at 6748 Mission street, servicing the agency's policy-holders in this area.

Mr. Rector, who will handle the management of the office, says the most immediate result of the merger will be the employment of a full-time claims man to handle the claims presented by the agency's policyholders. Rector says that in many cases, the claim will be completed and the payment made from their own Daly City office.

Mr. Pearson will supervise the writing and servicing of policies by the agency force. Pearson feels that the greatest benefit from the merger will be gained by the intensive training and close supervision of the agents and brokers who are working through the agency. This will result, said Pearson, in the knowledge that every policy written will give the protection desired because it is tailored to fit the individual. He says his eventual aim is to develop a specialist for each type of insurance written, including auto, fire, liability, and life insurance. In that way, he said, we will be able to give the greatest service to the community, which is our main objective.

Tormey Requests State School Building Support

That the school housing situation in San Mateo county is so critical today as to justify their vigorous support of bills intended to alleviate this condition, was the text of a telegram just sent to Assemblyman Richard Dolwig and Senator Harry Parkman, San Mateo county legislators, by James R. Tormey, candidate for county superintendent of schools.

Tormey cites in his telegram that there is a one-room school in San Mateo county, built in 1870, which today serves sixty children who this winter will have to huddle around a "museum-piece, pot-bellied iron stove" for their warmth. Even the desks are antiques and, except for a few coats of paint administered as a preservative, the building and its facilities are just about the same as when first established eighty years ago.

At the Ravenswood, Menlo Park and Laguna Salada districts there are kindegarten classes in which fifty or more children are enrolled and where double session classes have been operating for the past several years, even with state aid. Tormey points out in his wire to the legislators that there are 23 classes in 13 rooms in one instance, while in another 24 classes are being held in 18 rooms. The message from Tormey continues:

"Even more children, now of pre-school age, will be enrolled shortly and without state aid to the districts, these children will suffer permanent harm. Continued double sessions tend to increase juvenile delinquency. Both children and society will pay far more to undo harm later on than prevent it now.

"We build our nation, child by child, and can ill afford a shoddy foundation in that building program."

Sheriff McGrath Launches Intense Re-Election Drive

An intensive campaign for the re-election of Sheriff James J. (Jim) McGrath at the November 7 general election is being launched today, according to Claude J. Hirschey and Irving E. Kesterson, co-chairmen of McGrath's county-wide campaign committee.

Hirschey is vice president and general manager of the San Francisco Bank in Burlingame, and Kesterson, who resides in Atherton, is a retired cattleman, and active in civic affairs.

Hirschey and Kesterson said the McGrath campaign will be spearheaded by men and women representing every phase of community life throughout the county, who are serving as members of the McGrath county committee. General headquarters of the campaign have been opened at 122 Second avenue, San Mateo.

The co-chairmen announced that William J. Feary, Burlingame, long prominent in county civic affairs, will be treasurer of the campaign, and the director will be Jack South, Burlingame, former Peninsula newspaperman and Congressional executive secretary.

"This committee of widely-known San Mateo county citizens is backing McGrath," Hirschey and Kesterson said, "because of his long and faithful record for ability and integrity as sheriff of San Mateo county, and because we feel his experience and training are invaluable to the county, especially in this emergency.

"McGrath's outstanding ability as a law enforcement evecutive has been recognized by Governor Warren's Law Enforcement Advisory Committee for Civilian Defense, which named him as San aMteo county law enforcement coordinator in the defense program. In addition he has the confidence, co-operation and support of virtually every city police department in the county. Chiefs of police in every city have spoken highly of his assistance and alertness in helping to maintain law and order."

MARCH OF DIMES

L. M. GIANNINI

Lawrence Mario Giannini, president of the Bank of America, has accepted the chairmanship of the 1951 March of Dimes in California, Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, disclosed today. This marks Mr. Giannini's second consecutive year as head of the National Foundation's fund-raising appeal in California.

The prominent banker, in his role as California State March of Dimes chairman, will coordinate the fund-raising activities of campaign directors throughout cities and counties in his State.

Following in the footsteps of his famous father, A. P. Giannini, he entered the banking business in 1918 as a clearings clerk. Although he had two more years to go before completing his formal education, he made his way in the bank, learning operations at first hand. Some 10 years later, he had achieved membership on the bank's general executive committee and had been made vice-chairman of the board of directors.

In February, 1930, he succeeded his father as president of Transamerica Corporation, holding company which at that time held the stock of the Bank of America. In January, 1936, L. M. Giannini was elected president of the Bank of America and it has expanded greatly under his leadership since then. Early in 1950 he was given a special award for outstanding public service by the Southern California Financial Writers Association.

He is on the board of directors of many financial institutions throughout the country and holds membership in the California Bar Association, the Bar Association of San Francisco, and numerous civic and fraternal organizations.

RESEARCH PAYS OFF

Forty-three years of research have uncovered hundreds of uses for nickel and nickel alloys in the United States and other countries. Today nickel exports help bring into Canada millions of U. S. dollars yearly. The dollars help pay the 14,000 nickel employees as well as the railwaymen, lumbermen, steel and iron workers and other men and women making supplies for the nickel mines, smelters and refineries.

The Stork AND The School Board

The stork has been extra busy during recent years—delivering a lot more precious little bundles than he ever averaged before.

The first of these are beginning to storm the schoolhouse doors right now, and their little brothers and sisters will follow them before we know it.

Members of our hard-working School Board know this all too well. They know what this additional enrollment will mean in terms of more classrooms, more teachers in the elementary grades, more textbooks and supplies. They're doing their best to get ready, but they can't do the job alone. They need the help of all—parents, professional people, businessmen.

Armed Forces Christmas Mailing To Be Completed Before November 15

Postmaster John F. Fixa today announced that the Post Office Department and the Armed Services have designated the period October 15 to November 15 as the time for mailing parcels and greeting cards to our Armed Forces serving outside the continental United States.

The term Armed Forces Overseas; personnel of our Armed Forces, members of their families and authorized civilians employed overseas who receive their mail through an Army Post Office or Fleet Post Office.

The following rules will govern this type of mail:

Mail for Korea, Japan and islands in the Pacific should be in the mails not later than November 1st.

Parcels for personnel in remote places should be mailed by October 15th.

Packages may weigh up to 70 pounds except those addressed to A.P.O.'s 124 and 125, c/o Postmaster, New York, N. Y., where the limit of 50 pounds will apply.

Length plus girth of packages should not exceed 100 inches.

Domestic rates of postage are applicable. Parcels sent by surface mail are subject to zone rates from the post office of origin to the post office in care of which the parcel is addressed. Parcels to Armed Forces overseas may be sent via Air Mail.

Addresses should show full name, rank, serial number, branch of service, organization and A.P.O. or F.P.O. number and the post office through which the mail is to be routed.

Addressing should be done in INK on the face of the package. It is not recommended that gummed stickers be used for addressing or sealing packages as they may become detached due to climatic conditions.

Use return address as well as that of addressee and insert a card within the package showing the names and addresses of sender and addressee and a list of the contents. This card will identify the parcel should it become broken open or defaced.

Containers of metal, wood or stout fibre board should be used and they should be bound with stout cord, knotted at crossings.

Matches and lighter fluid are unmailable. Cigarettes and tobacco may be sent to servicemen, except to those whose addresses are in Austria, England, France, Germany, Italy, and Trieste.

Customs declarations are required on parcels sent to A.P.O.'s 58, 124 and 125, c/o Postmaster, New York, and Navy No. 214, F.P.O., New York, N. Y., and to A.P.O.'s 825 through 837, c/o Postmaster, New Orleans, La.

Domestic money orders may be cashed at Army or Navy Post Offices overseas.

Shattuck Enters Home Stretch

The campaign for Edward S. Shattuck's election as California's attorney general in the November 7 general elections moved into high gear this week with the appointment of Dan R. Love, Jr., prominent Burlingame civic leader, as San Mateo county chairman for the Shattuck campaign.

In accepting the county leadership, Love said, "There is only one candidate for the office of attorney general who possesses the broad administrative experience, as well as the combination of civil and criminal background, required for the office. He is Edward S. Shattuck, who has had 23 years of all-inclusive law experience to qualify him for the position.

"As a veteran of both World Wars and as a public administrator for 11 years over vast governmental programs, Mr. Shattuck is expertly equipped to take over the duties as California's chief law enforcement officer and people's attorney."

The newly-named local leader for Shattuck also pointed out that "Mr. Shattuck has consistently gone on record in behalf of California's rights to her water and valuable oil tidelands and natural resources, and has announced that in the matter of local law enforcement he will cooperate, rather than interfere, with county and municipal officers, except where he is requested to lend state assistance on local law enforcement problems."

Spotlight Turned On County Loyalty Oath at Meet Fri.

Loyalty oaths — a daily subject of heated controversy, on the national and local level alike — will be the subject of concern at the Friday, October 6, meeting of the San Mateo County Civil Service Commission in Redwood City.

William Goggin, county personnel director, has indicated that he will bring up the much-mulled-over issue with particular regard to the status of 1,000 county employees at the confab.

Goggin will enlighten the Commission about Governor Earl Warren's announced plan on the loyalty oath question. No recommendation to make loyalty oath signing compulsory for county employees will be introduced, Goggin announced.

Under Warren's plan, legislation could be enacted to require all state, county, and municipal employees to be part of a civilian defense setup, which would automatically require them to take loyalty oaths. If the Governor's proposals are carried out, local county action wouldn't be necessary, since the state law would encompass all local governmental units.

District Attorney Louis B. Dematteis said he approved of the Los Angeles plan requiring Communists to register, but would await possible state or federal legislative action instead of making similar recommendations to the Commission.

County law enforcement departments are working in close conjunction with the Federal Bureau of Investigation in regard to control of Communists, Dematteis revealed. The FBI has been well informed of a few instances of alleged Communist activity within the county, he said, but, on the whole, Dematteis described the situation as "well in hand."

Drivers Bet Life At Stop Signs

You bet your life when you fail to come to a complete stop at a stop sign, the California Highway Patrol declared today.

"Too many drivers roll right through stop signs," the Patrol stated. "In order to save a few seconds they seem willing to gamble not only their own lives, but the lives of others.

"If you value your own life so lightly, at least consider the lives of your fellow motorists and pedestrians. Come to a complete halt at every stop sign, whether or not any traffic is approaching."

Display To Honor State Newspapers

A unique display in San Francisco next week (October 1-8) will honor northern and central California newspapers.

The exhibit is designed to call attention to National Newspaper Week, and is installed in the Third street windows of the San Francisco Examiner. Arrangements for the exhibit were made by the municipal Regional Service Committee, with the cooperation of the San Francisco office of the California Newspaper Publishers Association.

Featuring a large sign bearing the slogan "Truth — To a Free People" which was selected for this year's celebration of Newspaper Week, hundreds of newspapers published in the territory between the Tehachapis and the Oregon line are displayed.

NEW FIELDS FOR MAGNETS

The bulk of the production of permanent magnets for 1949 was in Alnico V containing 14% nickel, 8% aluminum, 24% cobalt and 3% copper. Loud speakers for radio and television sets continued to be the largest market, but about 25% of production has been in toys, gadgets, and novelty applications such as come-apart cuff buttons, and even soap in which a magnet has been embedded to hold to any steel surfaces it touches.

Hoot, Mon, Gaelic Course Is Free

"Free to the public" instruction in the national language of Scotland — Scottish Gaelic — will be offered by the University of San Francisco beginning this Sunday.

All persons interested in acquiring the brogue of the land of the plaid kilts and the bagpipes are invited to attend the classes which will run continuously each Sunday until April, 1951. Classes start promptly at 2 p.m. on the campus at 2130 Fulton street.

According to University language professors, the study of Gaelic is fundamental as a good foundation for the study of philology — the study of language in regard to history and literature.

State Chamber Meet To Consider Oil Conservation

The problem of oil conservation in California and probable legislation dealing with it, which is expected to be a matter of major importance at the 1951 session of the Legislature, is high on the agenda of the Central Coast Council of the State Chamber of Commerce, meeting at the Palace Hotel Friday, September 29.

Both proponents and opponents of oil conservation proposals will be given an opportunity to present their views at the luncheon meeting, according to Frank M. Shay, regional vice president. The meeting will be thrown open to questions from the floor and members of the Council will determine their position on the general principle of oil conservation legislation.

Committees on agriculture and industry will study the import of the Korean war on the State's economy. An explanation of the new Federal Social Security Act and its effect on California employers will feature morning committee sessions.

Other Northern California Council sessions which will consider the oil conservation problem are the Sacramento Valley Council at Sacramento, October 6; the San Joaquin Valley Council at Fresno, October 20; and the North Coast Council, at Santa Rosa, November 3.

40% Of Work On Highway No. 101 Now Completed

Harold H. Bar, chairman of the California Mission Trails Association Highway Committee, stated today that better than 40% of the 5-year improvement program for U.S. No. 101 has either been completed or is in process.

One needs only to drive the new 4-laned divided stretches through Oxnard; north from Ventura and through Santa Barbara; the magnificent freeway through Buellton, Pismo Beach and into San Luis Obispo to realize the great amount of work that has already been accomplished.

From Salinas to San Francisco is one of the greatest improvements of all with the San Jose Bypass taking about 30 minutes off the drive between these two cities. This piece of construction moves through traffic and truck traffic around the busy streets of San Jose, yet allows the leisurely tourist to travel directly into the city and down picturesque El Camino Real.

Soaring construction costs may retard some of the construction, but Bar says he believes that the 5-year Highway Plan will see U.S. No. 101 almost completely 4-laned from Los Angeles to San Francisco. Other major jobs completed under this program are the 4-laning from Watsonville to Santa Cruz and improvement of Highway No. 1 in many other places.

S. F. Raid Siren To Be Repaired

At least one of San Francisco's five big air raid sirens, installed during the last war, is coming out of mothballs.

Chrysler Motor Corp., manufacturers of the sirens, wants to borrow it, and in exchange is willing to put it in top operating condition, free.

The Corporation, which is once again finding a market for its product, discovered someone had scrapped all the jigs and dies for making the sirens. So it wants to borrow one of San Francisco's sirens so more like it can be built.

Only reason San Francisco still has its five sirens, it was reported by City Purchaser Harold Jones, is that nobody wanted to buy them when they were put up for sale last year, and they were placed in storage. The sirens cost San Francisco about $3500 each, Jones said.

Striped bass were introduced into the Delta and Lower Sacramento areas in 1879 and 1882.

Navy States Seabees May Re-Enlisted Now

Ex-USN Seabees, with few exceptions, can now reenlist in the regular Navy with the loss of only one pay grade from that held on last active duty, i.e., a former chief or acting chief can reenlist as a petty officer first class, and a former petty first class can reenlist as a petty officer second class, etc.

Certain eligibility requirements must be met, which vary depending on type of former service, type of discharge, and length of active service. To avoid any misunderstanding, it is best if interested former USN Seabees check with the nearest U.S. Navy recruiting station to determine their eligibility and reenlistment rate.

Complete information on this program may be obtained by phoning or visiting the Navy recruiting station in the San Mateo Post Office building or the county court house in Redwood City.

How to cripple a child for life

Take the brightest kid in town (he could be yours) . . . give him a second-rate schooling or not enough of it . . . jam him into a crowded classroom, hand him an out-of-date textbook . . . and the job's well begun. He may be damaged for life.

Oh, he may make out all right . . . even be a fair-to-middling citizen. But compared to what he might have been — he'll still be something to make you weep.

By 1955-56, seven million extra kids will have swarmed into our schools . . . and plenty of them — more than you think, probably — may be right here in our own community. They're going to need new classrooms, more teachers, more textbooks and supplies. And we've got to see that they get them.

Because if we don't — we'll be selling ourselves and our country down the river. We'll be unforgivably wasting the most valuable natural resource we have — our own children — America's citizens of tomorrow.

Can't we start thinking about this problem now? You'll help, won't you? For information on how citizens in other communities have worked together in behalf of their schools, write to: National Citizens Commission for the Public Schools, 2 West 45th Street, New York 19, N. Y.

Employers Giving Draftees Bad Deal Douglas Claims

The refusal of many employers to give jobs to young men of draft age is "shameful," Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, said in a statement to the House of Representatives just before the adjournment of Congress.

Employers must realize that they have a "patriotic duty to the young men who may soon be called upon to defend our Nation's liberties," Congresswoman Douglas told members of the House.

Combat veterans of World War II who have just completed their education are, in many cases, told by employers that "we're not hiring anybody subject to draft" or "we're only hiring married men," the Senatorial candidate said.

She pointed out that this attitude creates a "climate in which subversive tendencies can take root among bitter and dispirited men."

"It is sad enough when young men who have been fighting for their country come home after a war and cannot find employment," Congresswoman Douglas said; "It is worse than tragic when young men who may be called upon to fight a war learn that this very possibility debars them from sustaining the life which they may soon have to offer up for their country.

"This is a shameful situation which cannot be cured by legislation. I can only appeal to the conscience and patriotism of employers, and I hope that appeal will not fall upon deaf ears," she concluded.

SIX POUNDS PER VEHICLE

During 1949 about 6½ million cars and trucks were produced, a new high in the history of the industry. It is estimated that in passenger cars, trucks and replacement parts, 39,000,000 pounds of nickel in the form of alloy steels, irons, nickel plating, mill products and other alloys were consumed during the year.

ORIGINAL STYLING and functional design throughout identify the Henry J and Henry J DeLuxe, Kaiser-Frazer's newest 1951 models. Less than 60 inches in height, the low-priced sedans are smartly styled without "frills" or excessive ornamentation. A major utility feature is the arrangement of the rear seat, which folds forward to make a level cargo floor and provide a spacious 50 cubic feet of storage area. Sue Doyle, Detroit model, demonstrates the convenient accessibility of the cargo floor. Illustrated is the six-cylinder deluxe sedan.

Queen Of Columbus Day Celebration To Be Picked Sept. 29

The queen for the annual city-wide Columbus Day Celebration will be picked on the night of September 29, it is announced by George R. Reilly, president of this year's event.

Six attractive contestants are competing for the honor, with the winner to be selected by a board of judges on the basis of popularity votes. In addition to reigning as Queen Isabella during the observance from October 7 to 12, the winner gets an all-expense-paid trip to Hollywood.

On Saturday, October 7, the queen will be crowned by Frank Marini, "Mayor of North Beach" and beloved philanthropist, at a Coronation Ball in the Fairmont Hotel.

The next day, after attending a solemn high mass at SS. Peter and Paul's Church, the queen will preside on a regal float in a two-hour-long parade.

Immediately afterward, she will enact her role in the traditional pageant at Aquatic Park of the landing of Columbus. Author and title role player in the pageant, as he has been for many years, will be John J. Masse.

Angelo Petrini, chairman of the parade committee, said dozens of entries for the procession are pouring in and that it will have "all the fixings" — floats, bands, mounted and foot marching units, drum and bugle corps, decorated cars, comedy acts plus similar features that have attracted tens of thousands of spectators in the past.

The armed forces have sent formal notification that they will be well represented.

Starting from Civic Center at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, October 8, the parade will proceed down Market street to Kearny street, up Kearny to Columbus, and past a reviewing stand at SS. Peter and Paul's.

On Columbus Day itself, October 12, the observances conclude with a special concert of Italian music at 2 p.m. in the Golden Gate Park band concourse, and a Grand Banquet at 7 p.m. in the Fairmont Hotel.

Warren Campaign Gets Under Way In Northern Calif.

With the operation of a district and local coverage system gaining momentum, the campaign for re-election of Earl Warren as State governor was reaching out to Democrats, Republicans, trade unionists, other important groups and thousands of individuals on a unprecedented scale.

Thomas J. Mellon, chairman for the 48 northern California counties, declared today that as a result of the broadened program virtually every voter in the State will be reached personally by a Warren supporter in the drive to keep our State administration in qualified hands.

In order to secure widest possible voter participation in the election, break down tendencies to overconfidence and drive home the necessity of a Warren victory at this critical time, Mellon and his associates plan a series of meetings with political leaders, labor organizations and other equally important groups in every northern California county.

At these district meetings, one of which has already been held in Fresno, programming for committee activities in each city and town will be discussed. These meetings will continue, according to Mellon, until every community in the northern end of the state will have an active and vigorous body of committee members out working with the people on issues and facts and drumming up the Warren vote.
